Fire District Gets Nod From County Board

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors approved the formation of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District at the hearing Monday forenoon.

To make the act official, the Board must pass a resolution to be drafted by the County Counsel's office, and set the definite boundaries of the new district.

Excluded from the district are Vista La Mesa, Vista La Mesa Villa, Burren Acres and several lots in ex-Mission Rancho.

The Chamber of Commerce petition, containing the names of 773 property owners in Monterey Heights, Lemon Grove, and some in Vista La Mesa and American homes, was filed by James B. Pearce, chairman of the fire committee of the Chamber, asking the formation of the district.

Another petition was filed by F. H. Hallis, asking that certain areas be excluded.

The Board, after hearing the petitioners, unofficially approved the resolution, and set the boundaries.

The Board of Supervisors will appoint a temporary board of fire commissioners when they adopt the resolution adopting the district.

Christmas Tree to Appear Soon

The second annual Christmas tree display and kid party will take place this season sponsored by the Lemon Grove Lions Club.

The tree will be set up on its permanent standard on Imperial avenue, just north of Broadway.

The Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls will be asked to make additional decorations for the tree.

Thursday, December 22, has been tentatively set as the date for the Christmas party for the kiddies of the community. Forest Baxter, president of the club, stated yesterday.

Present Flags to Girl Scouts

The Parent's Guild of St. John of the Cross Parochial School will be held this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. The program chairman is Mrs. Henry Elkins and a very nice program is planned.

Cassell and Mrs. R. J. Taylor are leaders for the Brownies, ages 7 to 10. The group will be presented with their Girl Scout Troop flag and the American flag and the standards for each.

The Guild will also sponsor a display of library books and posters to commemorate American Education week and Book week combined. Prizes have been given to the children making the best posters and these will be on display.

Local Businessman Passes Suddenly

This community was shocked the first of the week when it became known that Carl H. Polzin had passed away at his home 8161 Lincoln avenue, on Sunday afternoon.

On Armistice evening, he suffered a heart attack and was taken to a hospital. He was brought home Sunday afternoon, presumably well, but passed away suddenly in about three hours.

Mr. Polzin conducted a barber shop at 3311 Imperial avenue for three years, and a year and a half ago moved into the present location next door at 3325, Imperial.

Carl H. Polzin was born in St. Charles, Minn., on March 16, 1896, and passed away at his home at the age of 53 years, eight months. He came to San Diego 25 years ago and has lived in Lemon Grove the past six years. He made many friends and was greatly interested in helping to build up the community. He sponsored the Cub Scout Darby for the past two years. Mr. Polzin was a great lover of horses and had his own riding horse, of which he was very fond.

Mr. Polzin was united in marriage with Miss Elsie Shaw in Yuma, Ariz., on February 6, 1935.

Besides his devoted wife, he leaves his father, Albert Polzin, of Minnesota; four sisters in the East and a sister, Mrs. Leila Hall of El Cajon.

Memorial services were conducted on Thursday at 10 a. m. by the Rev. Dan Apra, at the Anderson-Erickson Mortuary, La Mesa.

Montgomerys Buy Cadillac Jones

L. E. Montgomery and his son C. E. Montgomery, have purchased the Cadillac Jones Delatessen and Liquor Store on Broadway and took possession Tuesday.

Mr. Montgomery came from St. Louis recently. His son has been in Southern California for more than a year and formerly worked at the Mission Valley Golf Club.

They investigated a number of communities, before selecting Lemon Grove as their permanent location.

Next Concert to be November 28

Rudolph Firkusny, internationally famous pianist, will give a concert on Monday evening, November 28, at 8:15 p. m. for members of Grossmont Community Concert Association in the high school auditorium.

Appearance with Koussevitzky and Stokowski has proved Firkusny's demand and music lovers will revel in his fiery and masterful playing. Presentation will be second in the association's season with the first concert, the London String Quartet, receiving top quality reviews from local music critics.

Members are reminded to make reservation for house guests who wish to attend, with Mrs. James Henderson, H47784.

A pre-concert board meeting was held Monday evening following dinner at Rose Hedge Manor with members attending including Messrs and Mesdames Claude Beagle, James McDermott, Charles Hogue, James Henderson, Stephen Westover, George Clarke, and Mrs. Theodore Vita, who then attended a concert by Eugene Estomin, pianist, at Coronado.

At a dinner meeting of the School Administrators Association of San Diego County on Tuesday evening at Chula Vista, J. Paul Elliot, president of the California Trustees Association, was the chief speaker of the evening. Attending from the Lemon Grove District were Byron L. Netzeley, District Superintendent of Schools, Samuel K. Solleder, Director of Education, Mrs. Evelyn Lauritzen, elementary school supervisor, Ben Schei, principal of Vista La Mesa School, and Vroman J. Dorman, chairman of the Lemon Grove District Board of Education.

La Mesa Golf and Country Club Making Elaborate Improvements

The La Mesa Golf and Country Club will be entirely rebuilt when the construction work now under way is completed this season.

A new road into the club grounds is being opened this week, with new and larger parking facilities located closer to the clubhouse. Completion of a new $600 barbecue pit will add much to the outdoor life on the club grounds.

Fairways and greens, which formerly graced the hills to the east, have been removed to the lower level and all greens are now almost on the level.

With the 18th fairway being used as parking space, a new 18th will be built, as will a new 9th and 10th in the area now traversed by the old road. The recently constructed clubhouse is within 100 yards of six greens.

The greens will be re-arranged next spring so that what is now the 12th fairway, will be the first, and number 11 will be the 18th. Under the new arrangement the 9th fairway will be shortened 50 yards when it is moved across the new road, which now intersects the present 9th green.

The La Mesa Golf and Country Club is a privately owned affair. James P. Laursen being the owner. Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Horn, both professional golfers, are the managers of the club, having been so employed since April 1.

The club, having about 200 members, is governed by a board of directors and officers. Herman Mentall is the president, Roland Palmer, secretary and treasurer and also acting as vice-president.

The members of the board of directors are Jim Hicks, James P. Laursen, Jack Donovan, Harry P. Sweet, Mrs. Harry P. Sweet, Mrs. Berta Brainard, Charles Costello and Frank Alessio.

There is also a ladies section, with Mrs. Dorothy Louis as chairman, Mrs. Berta Brainard vice-

Prizewinning Essays in Lions What a Bank Has Done Contest

What a Bank Has Done for Lemon Grove

FIRST PRIZE ESSAY

JOAN LEWIS

7933 Lansing, Lemon Grove

8th grade, Lemon Grove School

The Bank in Lemon Grove has made an improvement in the looks of the town as it is a modern, attractive building.

It is also convenient for the people. They can deposit their savings to be used by the bank or they can borrow money on interest, to be used for necessities in the home or business. By having a bank near by, it saves the people a lot of time and trips to neighboring towns to do their banking.

I have been told that when a bank appears in a community it is a sure sign of progress and the community has a good future. Bankers are cautious people because they invest the people's savings to make more money.

Lemon Grove is growing rapidly, and I suspect that the Bank has done its share.

SECOND PRIZE ESSAY

FERN PLETSCHE

1830 Skyline drive 7th grade

St. John of the Cross School

Every town needs a bank because it helps to build up the town.

People like to shop and bank in the same area, so the bank helps to keep the business in your own town.

If you have to go out of town to attend to banking matters, you can't go as often as you like, so you have to draw out a large sum of money at one time and that is taking a chance of it being stolen. Therefore people like to live where they can go to the bank often.

In a bank you can put all the nickels, dimes and dollars that you earn or have given to you, to save them to get some useful thing, or for emergencies.

A bank is useful if you want to pay your employees or some other bills because you don't have to carry the money with chairman, Mrs. Beryl Swinson secretary, Mrs. Jessie Martindale treasurer, Mrs. Rose Cushman handicap chairman, Mrs. Marian Marsh publicity chairman, Mrs. Nell Karpinsky, tournament chairman, and Mrs. Glen Rudy, social chairman.

The club, being located just at the eastern edge of Lemon Grove, has many Lemon Grove people as members. Others who are golf-minded use the club grounds for their play.

Review to Print Early Next Week

The Review will be printed on Wednesday next week on account of Thanksgiving falling on our usual press day. Advertisers and publicity chairmen are asked to get their copy in one day early.

Holiday Pageant at Grossmont III

Grossmont Board of Trustees, the faculty Christmas Pageant staff, and representatives from Grossmont PTA and student body met Wednesday afternoon to decide if the annual Christmas pageant should be canceled this year because of problems arising from stress of overcrowded conditions and the lack of seating for the large numbers of students, parents and general public.

The Grossmont faculty has been facing the increasing pressure for many years. This year with 2600 students, 5200 parents, plus hosts of relatives, alumni, and the general public who will want to view the production, serious study seemed to indicate that the pageant should be discontinued until such time as the student body was reduced in size.

The question was finally referred to the Grossmont Board of Trustees, for decision who decided that because of the great value to the participating students, to the school and the community, the pageant should be continued with every effort made to provide publicity on the seating problem and a fair ticket distribution system patterned after that followed last year.

Jrs. Founders Day Dinner

The annual Founder's Day dinner of the Forward Club Juniors was held at Friendship Hall on Tuesday evening of last week. All club members are asked to bring childrens clothing and canned goods to the meeting next Tuesday in order to prepare a Thanksgiving basket for a family the club has found whose holiday can be made happier and more comfortable by receiving such a gift.

A Trip to Elvira Street

A few weeks ago tourists were taken on a visit to Elvira Street, setting for the Forward Juniors bazaar. An extended trip takes us past a neat, sparkling white shop, operated by Mrs. Wm. Hubbard, her cupboard, popular with the men, has the latest fancies in culinary art—rich creamy lemon pies. On the top shelf there are pans of raised rolls; also Swedish tea rings with nuts, raisins and brown sugar peeking out from under the coating of maple frosting and bright red cherries. "Wouldn't that go good with a hot cup of coffee?"

"Did someone say coffee?" At the mention of the word, caretaker Mrs. DeWitt Mytinger, at the sidewalk cafe across the way, is ready to serve you. Along with hot coffee, which hits the spot anytime, donuts and big thick juicy hamburgers are also on sale. Our little group relaxes in the inviting chairs and tables while enjoying a tempting hamburger with trimmings and piping hot coffee.

One quaint spot that especially catches our fancy is "Ye Old Fruitcake Shoppe." The shop owner, Mrs. Ray Kallanquin uses an old English recipe given down for generations and passed on to her by her grandfather, who was an Englishman. These delicacies which are all shapes and sizes are neatly wrapped in cellophane and chockfull of assorted fruits and nuts and saturated with brandy. One of these cakes would solve the gift problem.

SCHOOL NEWS

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

On Armistice Day Eiden Goodall, science teacher at the Junior High School, accompanied 26 boys and four girls on a week-end trip to Borrego Desert. They departed at 5:30 p.m., accompanied by Mrs. Goodall, Chester Bunch, and George Roberts. For some children it was their first experience in climbing and camping. During the trip through the mountains, deer were often visible and the valley to the east could be seen. Once the busload arrived at Borrego, pup tents sprung up everywhere. After a good evening meal, they all enjoyed themselves singing around the campfire. Saturday was spent on hiking excursions. Many were surprised, after miles of nothing but stones, sand, rock, and cacti, to suddenly round a corner and view paradise palms, cool pools, and waterfalls. The entire group drove home Sunday.

RED CROSS UNIT

The Junior Red Cross unit of the Lemon Grove Junior High has been fully organized under the direction of Miss Francis Reed, art teacher. Physical Development Class

The physical development elective class at Junior High is under the direction of Mel Krailley, assisted by Fabian Egan, both physical education instructors. On Thursdays and Tuesdays, the class is given instruction in the administration of first aid to the injured. The balance of the week is taken up with various exercises which help strengthen bones and muscles. In calisthenics, Kenneth Riley has the highest record for "sit-ups" with 450; Howard Hawkins leads in "knee bends" with 540; LeRoy Finch leads in "leg raises" with 50.

The class has done weight lifting with the bar bell and the dumbbell. Occasionally the boys do a lap around the lower athletic field to build up their "wind." The boys all work hard at everything in which they engage. Some excellent athletes should be soon ready for Grossmont! In the bar bell exercises, they do warm-ups, arm curls, arm pull-over, back presses and toe raises. With the dumbbell exercises, they do bell presses, bell curls pull-overs and bell swings. The following students from the seventh and eighth grades are enrolled: Howard Hawkins, LeRoy Finch, Kenneth Riley, George Balch, James Barrow, Dennis Bryan, David Dennison, Charles Gaffan, Ronald McGuire, Richard Denton, Richard Dedrick, Jay Elston, Robert Williams, Pat Young, Douglas Frey, Albert Funk, Lee Harold, Kio Hering, Tex McDonald, Jim Pratt, Archie Stalnaker, Richard Thiebault and Rurik Kallis.

Mrs. June Mason's room 13, grades five and six, recently elected officers for November: Eddie Patterson, chairman; Charlotte Norris, vice chairman; John Dorman, reporter; Ronald Mulder, librarian; Roy Bottini, room monitor; John Bonilla, board monitor; Billy Hathaway, messenger; Barbara Beum and Willard Rigley, ball monitors. The class is glad to welcome three new classmates to the group: Beatrice Pietro, sixth grade, a transfer from Otay, who has a brother Moses and a sister Carmen, also in our schools; Charlotte Norris, from Chollas School in San Diego, who has a sister in kindergarten; Wayne Pinterick, fifth grade, a San Diego transfer from Alexander Hamilton School.

Talks and Walks With Mother Nature

BY TRIXIE TREGANZA

SHRIKE

Good morning Mr. Shrike, says Mother Nature, as she comes down the road all garbed in fairy sunshine. See him perched there on the fence post, his pretty gray uniform with white vest and white sleeves. His dark head seems sort of flat and his shoulders are all hunched up. Just slip up close to him and you see his thick, strong bill hooked and toothed just like a saw. Notice his strong feet, too. He is really a diminutive bird of prey. He is bad and bold. He is one of my gunmen, one of my executioners who are very necessary when the mobs of English Sparrows and Linnets and House Finches defile my laws and disregard my mandates. But he also likes mice and lizards and grasshoppers and will often rummage through the garden searching for cut worms and ground beetles.

Mr. Shrike is sly and cunning, and oftentimes attempts to act coquettish like little Miss Linnit, and even imitates her pretty warbling song. Uninvited, he will go so far as to drop down in a crowd of Sparrows who are arguing over some disputed morsel—and Presto! In a twinkling he has nabbed one by the neck and away he flies to his shop where he hangs it up on a hook to dry or awaits the pleasure of his appetite. Mr. Shrike keeps a butcher shop in some sheltered bush where, like some terrible ogre, he brings his hapless victims and impales them on thorns. Then he is off again in quest of other kinds of meat for his shop. His voice is harsh and shrill, but once in a great while he even startles himself by giving utterances to a note that really has a musical sound.

Mrs. Shrike looks just like Mr. Shrike and is equally daring. She builds her nest, sometimes high, sometimes low in a briar hedge or thorny cactus—rather bulky nest with a carefully laid platform of coarse sticks lined with soft, downy materials. She will travel many miles for favored bits of sheep wool, and not finding any will pick up enough fleecy feathers from the chicken yard. Occasionally she will decorate her nest with pieces of tangled string, bits of paper or scraps of cloth. Her four to seven grayish eggs spotted with light brown and purple in due time bring forth the same number of wide-mouthed, peeping, hungry naked babies who must be fed so many, many times a day. Soon there are the lessons the parent birds must teach their little ones, the art of flying; just how to keep out of danger; how and where to hunt for food. So when they become of age and are independent they can carry on the family tradition and inherit the name of shrike or butcher bird.

The program for this coming week-end offers another full selection of entertainment: Friday night at the San Diego Riding Club, the free fun show of the year is scheduled, having been postponed from last week due to the weather (and we don't mean hot weather, but that wet kind that we seldom have). The public is invited to help make this an evening of fun for everyone, riders and spectators, at sixth street and Mission Valley road, where they have a large, well-lighted ring in which novelty entries will be staged.

Saturday, as we all know, is Kid's Day at Balboa Stadium and among the popular entertainers to be on hand for the enjoyment of everyone will be the veteran actor and "high-schooled" performer, Diamond Duke and his owner and trainer, Erwin Schroeder from Escondido. This well-known pair also "did their stuff" between halves at the Annual Army-Navy Football game last week, along with roping acts by Jim Burleson of El Cajon, and Ann and Al Kay, of Alpine.

Next Sunday, starting about 10:30 a.m., the Rock 'N Ride Riders will hold a fun show at their ring in El Cajon. These fun shows have been switched to Sunday now that weather is a trifle cool for night games and with the horse show calendar a little on the "lean" side this time of year, these trade affairs should be well attended. Many trail riders are being revived from the "summer droop" and a brisk trail ride out to the fun show next Sunday should be just the thing.

Monday will be a very important day for every horseman and rider of San Diego County to unite their strength by being present at 2 p.m. in room 310 of the Civic Center, where the final hearing on the Otay Trails situation will take place with the Board of Supervisors. Not too many horsemen realize the fact that defeat of our petition to obtain riding trail through the Otay Ranch, to complete the State trail to the border, could mean defeat also to our system of county feeder trails, which are vitally necessary to the whole trails plan so that everyone may enjoy to the fullest the master plan of scenic trails throughout the county and state. A special committee, composed of horsemen throughout every part of the county, has been set up to contact every rider and horseman to urge his attendance Monday at the Supervisors' Chambers. There can't be too many present—the chambers are large and there's plenty of standing room in the halls. Come in your levis and identify yourselves as horsemen. And be sure to come!

News is in the air that a Broom Polo League is being formed, to be composed of four men to a team. Most of the riding clubs will have a team composed of their own members to compete against other teams. This sounds like exciting entertainment and should fill in nicely for the winter months if the league is organized before too long.

Last Sunday 22 members of the Silvergate Riding Club had a fine breakfast ride for two hours and returned for brunch at the Balboa Park Club House, where creamed chicken and all the trimmings was served to more than 50 friends and members.

On Sunday, the La Jolla Bridge Paths Association spent an enjoyable visit at the Ridgeway Lane Stables of Jess McMillan, high above La Jolla, in perfectly picturesque setting. There were five events for the riders—potato race, egg, old clothes, and water races and a novel event wherein riders teamed up in carrying water glasses filled with water, transferred at high speed like the mail-relay race. Judging was done on the quantity of water remaining in the glass if any.

Next Monday night, the 16 member entertainment committee of the San Diego County Horsemen's Association, Inc., and the nine members on the nominating committee, will meet at Ken and Sophia Jackson's barn in Mission Valley to nominate officers for 1950 and also to plan a wing-ding pot-luck social and dance for all the horsemen and their friends, in the very near future.

Following the ceremony a reception will be held in the garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Caldwell, with 125 guests invited.

Mrs. Caldwell Tells of Trip

After a recent week-end journey into Arizona and points along the way, Mrs. Emil Caldwell of La Presa, gave this interesting account of the things she saw.

After leaving Spring Valley we traveled through the mountains to Imperial Valley and the desert. For miles there was nothing but sand as far as the eye could see beautiful golden sand, big sand dunes and even mountains of sand anywhere. Along here we saw the old corduroy road.

All at once we began to see a little greenery here and there and then there was water, lots of water, the All American Canal. What a wonderful project this is, lock after lock, either to hold the water or carry it where it is needed. It is water from this canal that helps turn the desert land into fertile farm acreage.

As we crossed into Yuma we saw the Colorado River in all its glory. Next morning we started back and after crossing the desert, we decided to see more desert so we headed for the Salton Sea. Even though it was a breath taking sight we continued on with our journey into Coachella Valley, where the main crop is dates, and on through Bargo Wells.

Like most tourists we picked up a few souvenirs along the way. We stopped at the Barrett Ranch, in the canal zone, and spent some time talking to Mr. Barrett. His place has an interesting background. If you are a rock and mineral hobbyist, there are many interesting colors and types of rocks and minerals. We brought home a few specimens and of course some petrified wood however, it has woodpecked holes in it.

Because of the Sea shells, water marks and other formations, I surmise the sea or some body of water, at one time covered the desert area. The rocks prove a gigantic eruption occurred and lot of lava was the result.

It was a lovely trip that the whole family enjoyed and just proves what a wonderful time you can have and how far you can go, on just a weekend. There are many beautiful and interesting places to explore, within a weekend's reach of this area.

POTLUCK SUPPER
There will be a pot luck supper at the La Mesa Golf and Country Club Sunday evening, November 27, from 5:30 to 7 o'clock. All members are urged to attend and take along the kiddies. Mrs. R. H. Horn has an excellent program planned for the evening.
